SUGAR FROM BEETS

COMPLICATED PROCESS
The complicated process necessary to secure syrup or sugar from sugar beets makes it impossible to produce a home-made product from sugar beets grown on farms.

It is possible to produce a good quality of syrup from sorghum or sugar cane—a mill being required to grind the sorghum and evaporating equipment for boiling the juice.

Sugar is produced from sugar beets by slicing the beets and dissolving the soluble substance with hot water. This dark-colored liquid is then treated with lime and carbon dioxide gas until a thick sirup containing about 50 per cent of sugar is secured. This is then further concentrated by evaporating in vacuum pans.

Sirup made by boiling down the juice obtained by soaking sliced, washed beets is a dark-colored sticky mass with a disagreeable taste and odor as compared with that of the sorghum sirup.

COOPERATION TO SAVE THE SHADE TREES

The community effort in this line is generally responsible for the adoption of mechanical protectors and securing civic and court action whenever necessary to save shade trees from injury or destruction.

The tree faker is responsible for injuries to shade trees in a number of localities, but good tree surgery and repairs in the hands of an expert are effective in preserving the trees in many cities or suburban localities.

It is shown that many shade trees are lost annually from remodeling and

LITCHFIELD MAN SENTENCED TO TERM IN PENITENTIARY

Kirk D. Sealey, of Litchfield, who was indicted last September for the non-support of his minor child, Leland B. Sealey, now about four years old, was sentenced last Saturday, to the Ohio State Penitentiary by Judge McClure, for an indeterminate period of from one to three years. On Oct. 11, 1919 Sealey plead "not guilty" to the indictment against him and bond for his appearance was fixed at $750 which he accordingly gave with approved securities. His case however, did not come to trial until the April term to-wit May 5th—and a verdict of guilty was brought by the jury on that date. Under provisions of the statutes, sentence was suspended and he was permitted to give bond to the State conditioned for the payment of $4.00 per week for the support of his child, beginning April 12. William Brodt and George J. Knopf were his sureties on this bond. However Kirk did not take advantage of the leniency shown him, and neglected and refused to support his child—he having made payment only for four weeks. Consequently a capias was issued for his re-arrest, as provided by statute. He was taken to Columbus, Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Hange. A divorce was granted his wife Delphia G. Sealey, March 13.

ORCHARDISTS FAVOR RUSSIAN APPLE

The Yellow Transparent apple has been found to be one of the most successful early apples for Ohio culture.

The first fruit often appear the 2nd or 3rd year after setting the trees. The crops then gradually increase and under good conditions nearly annual crops are produced.

It is generally necessary to thin the apples of this variety, as over production tends to develop a biennial bearing habit of this apple.

This variety was imported from St. Petersburg, Russia, by the United States Department of Agriculture in 1870. The Yellow Transparent was one of the most desirable of 350 European or Russian apples introduced at that time.

THE WHEAT CROP

Views of different farmers and persons interested as to the wheat crop prospects at the present time are some what conflicting. The U. S. government prediction of May 1 was for 79% of a winter wheat crop. Now, the great crop report specialist, reporting a few days later made a prediction of 79.5% of a winter wheat crop. Ohio's prospect is 68% or well toward the bottom, but Medina county with other counties in the northern part of the state has a prospect that is much above the average in the winter wheat area. The crop seems to be improving daily in this section and we hope that after all our farmers will have a fair sized crop of wheat to harvest this year.

SEED WHEAT—At harvest time will be in the market for seed wheat usual at a premium above the market price. Those who have fields of ordinary Fultz and Poole which are free from mixtures of other varieties and cockle and rye, also those who have fields of Trumbull Portage, Selection 127, or Gladden would do well to report these fields to us immediately so that we may be able to inspect them before harvest. The quality of wheat as to its seed values can be determined much more readily from the field tests as it stands in the head ready for harvest than in any other way. We want to buy a quantity of wheat of the above named varieties but we would like the privilege of inspecting it in the field before harvest. So please report your fields of seed wheat now.

Our store on the public square and our mill on the Smith road will be closed Wednesday afternoons until further notice.
